today, she will have for her guest a schoolmate, Miss Clara York of Portsmouth.

Strawberries are very plentiful and fine in the country.

Talk has been revived again about interfering with the periodical sales of pension drawers.

The Court of Appeals affirmed the case of Culliver, etc., vs. Taylor, taken up from Nicholas county.

Regular monthly meeting of Washington Fire Company tomorrow afternoon and semi-annual election of officers.

The old town has been wide awake for the past week, and while some are physically tired everybody is financially improved.

The Rev. John C. Lee, aged 80, and the founder of Berea College, fell at that place a few days ago and dislocated his shoulder.
Mr. Lee was one of the pioneer abolitionists of Mason county, well remembered by all old Maryville people.

Mr. Thomas K. Richetts reached his home yesterday today. He was born on Jersey Island, this county, June 1st, 1819. Notwithstanding his advanced age he is more active than most men of his age, and is very healthy, and in good health taking regular walks from his residence on Sutton street to the top of Newgate Hill. He has fair to score a hundred.

THE SEEDS THAT NEVER GROW.

I never saw the bottom of spring
With its delightful sun,
For well I know the soil bring
A pack from Washington:
A little package duly franked,
No postage stamps to show,
And it contains those little seeds—
The kind that never grow.

Our good and zealous Congressman,
Remindful of our vote,
Upon his memorandum's page
Puts down a little note,
And when the proper time arrives
For us to send the note,
He sends us the little seeds,
The ones that never grow.

There're squashes with enticing names,
Savory of the coming spring,
So large that you would think that one
Would shade a garden spot,
So with the pack from Washington
You smile forth to sow,
With many a drop of sweat, the seeds
That never are to grow.

How often have I plied the rake,
How oft I've lugged about,
With eyes alert to catch the first Sign of the coming spring,
In vain, in vain, my hopes have fled,
My heart has filled with woe,
Above the seeds from Washington,
The seeds that never grow.

But rat each year my hopes revive
As spring recedes the year,
And to my impatient ears comes
The package marked "M. C. C."
And, foolish like, again I wait
The spring and the sun,
And, like a nut, plant the seeds
That never are to grow.

As long as comes the package small
From far-off Washington,
I suppose they'll see me working
In the shadow and the sun;
For once in a while my men die,
And this is why, I know,
I plant those pretty little seeds
That never, never grow.

are children, in which Ballard's Soda Lim-ment is not needed. It quickly cures Cuts, Wounds, Bruises, Burns and Scalds. Price 25 cents and 50 cents. J. Jas. Wood & Son.

Mr. William Tarleton, a prominent business man of Maryville, Ind., has been visiting his father, Mr. W. B. Tarleton in the county. He says there are few anti-slavery men there, and more than 80 people are there the year round on account of the fine properties of the waters.

Prof. Griffin and Miss Lelaine Fortima, who were residing conducting a sidewalk at the Ball Park, were arrested last night charged with living an improper performance. Judge Watson fined each of them $20 each —$40 in all, which they paid. It is not stated why the spectators of this performance were not arrested also.

FLOTSAM—JETSAM—LIGAN!
NEWS NOTES FROM NATURE'S GREAT HIGHWAYS.

The Bonanza passed down from Pottery yesterday.

The Keystone State will pass tonight for Pittsburgh.

The Avian for the headwaters of Kanawha passed up last night.

The City of Pittsburgh passed down this morning for Louisville.

The Henry M. Stanley goes to Kanawha river and way points tonight.

The J. H. McConnell will pass down with thirteen strings of timber for Louisville.

There's an ugly song in the river, just below Flag Creek. It is an old tree with the top off and lays with the dangerous old under the river. A good boat will be there one day last week.

There's a good substantial place about one of the Allegheny which will assure pocket water for several days longer than was anticipated by the packet lines. All towboats will now get to Pittsburgh.

The river traffic of Louisville has made a wonderful increase lately, there being no room left at the landing to allow the excursion boats to unload their cargo of humanity, and there's a sick going up.

The recent theft that left Louisville for the South was composed of 10 towboats, 10 coaches, 10 barges, 20 flatboats and 50 mules and square barge containing steel, rail and manufactured iron. At last accounts the steamer was proceeding in good shape.

A company has been organized to build a bridge across the Kentucky river, just above the mouth of the stream, one that if allowed to be built at the elevation contemplated would be quite an obstruction to navigation. But as the United States bridge law will have to be complied with, it is not likely that it will be built, except at a high elevation, and not as now contemplated by the bridge company.

The Pittsburgh boat John Moore is now on her way from Louisville to New Orleans with one of the largest, if not the largest, tons of iron ever loaded by one steamer on the river. She has over 1500 tons, which includes one barge of cotton ties. All the remainder of the ton is steel rails belonging to the Carnegie Company of Pittsburgh, and is being shipped to New Orleans for the Southern Pacific Railroad. The Pilot of the Moore are George Chase and Gus DeHoff, two of the best in the business.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling heavy boxes. The doctor I called in said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a druggist and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and on the first of a recent bout cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—V. A. Hancock, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.
